PREFACE

The Criminal Statistics of Canada are collected, compiled and published under authority of the Act respecting the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, 8-9 George V, Chapter 43.

Beginning with this report, an enlargement of the classification of offences has been adopted, by which offences relating to juvenile offenders are compiled separately from those relating to adults. The term "indictable" applies to adults only. Similar offences committed by juveniles are termed "major" offences; similarly "non-indictable" offences as applied to adults are termed "minor" offences when applied to juveniles. All comparative tables in the introduction to the present report have been worked out in accordance with the new classification.

The compilation of the report has been prepared under the supervision of Mr. Reginald E. Watts, Statistician, and the introduction was written by Mr. E. H. St. Denis, Assistant Dominion Statistician.

R. H. COATS,

Dominion Statistician.

CRIMINAL STATISTICS OF CANADA, 1922.

INTRODUCTION

The present report deals with (a) indictable offences and (b) non-indictable offences or summary convictions. The indictable offences are divided into six classes, as follows: I. Offences against the person; II. Offences against property with violence; IV. Malicious offences against property; V. Forgery and offences against the currency; VI. Other offences not included in the foregoing classes. All offences contained in the above classes are triable either by Jury or by Police or other Magistrates, under the Acts respecting "Speedy Trials" and "Summary Trials by Consent." The non-indictable offences are disposed of under authority of the Act respecting summary proceedings before Police or Other Magistrates, including Justices of the Peace.

As already stated in the "Abstract" of this report, recently published, a departure is now made form the method hitherto followed in the classification of offences, by which the statistics relating to juvenile delinquents, beginning with the present report, will be kept distinct and separate from those relating to adult offenders. The terms "Indictable" and "Non-indictable" offences will therefore, refer to adults only; while the terms "Major" and "Minor" offences will be applied to all juvenile offenders under sixteen years of age.

In dealing with indictable offences the number of charges, as well as the number of convictions and acquittals are given, but the details as to the accused are only furnished in the case of convictions; no detail, other than the sex of the accused, is given for acquittals.

The following information, relating to persons convicted, are collected:—nature of the offence, sentence, age, sex, birthplace, religion, occupation, conjugal condition, habits as to the use of intoxicating liquors, educational status and residence, as rural and urban.

PART I.—INDICTABLE OFFENCES

The number of charges for indictable offences during the year ending 30th September, 1922, was 21,032, as against 21,451 the year previous, a decrease of 419 or 1.02 per cent; while the number of convictions in 1922 was 15,720, as compared with 16,169 in 1921, a decrease of 449 or 2.78 per cent during the year, by provinces as follows:—

From the above table it will be seen that the number of convictions for indictable offences has increased, during the year, in Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick, Quebec, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and the Yukon; while decreases are shown in Nova Scotia, Ontario, Alberta and British Columbia.

The following table shows, for each province of the Dominion, the proportion of criminality and population compared:—

Provinces	Percentage of Criminality	Percentage of Population
Prince Edward Island	$18.35 \\ 44.66$	$ \begin{array}{r} 0.98 \\ 5.89 \\ 4.38 \\ 26.79 \\ 33.25 \end{array} $
Manitoba. Saskatchewan. Alberta. British Columbia. Yukon.	6·39 0·06	$6.99 \\ 8.76 \\ 6.82 \\ 6.01 \\ 0.04 \\ 0.09$
North West Territorics	100.00	100.00

From the preceding table it will be seen that the proportion of criminality is greater than that of population in Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and the Yukon, while the proportion of population is larger than that of criminality in Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Quebec and British Columbia.

The following table shows the number of convictions for indictable offences per 100,000 population, by provinces for the years 1918-1922:—

Provinces	1918	1919	1920	1921	1922	Average
Prince Edward Island Nova Scotia. New Brunswick Quebec. Ontario. Manitoba. Saskatchewan Alberta. British Columbia.	14 106 59 121 205 129 136 145 122 295	16 125 61 132 222 147 144 168 176	5 110 98 105 225 158 187 202 225 161	17 135 79 110 253 185 155 207 238	31 133 82 121 236 190 177 191 192 268	17 122 76 118 228 162 160 183 191
Canada	148	162	168	180	175	167

The above table shows that the number of convictions per 100,000 poputation, in Canada, increased each year from 148 in 1918 to 180 in 1921, while it fell to 175 in 1922. The three provinces showing higher averages for the five years, are Ontario, British Columbia and Alberta, while Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick and Quebec show lower averages.

The total number of female offenders for indictable offences is shown in the following table, by provinces:—

Provinces	Number of Convictions females	Percentage to total convictions	Number of Convictions females	Percentage to total convictions

Alberta	86	6.8	115	9.8
British Columbia. Yukon.		6.4	86	8.6
Canada	1,765	10.9	1,608	10.2

As shown by the above table, there was a decrease of 157 in the number of female offenders in 1922, with a percentage of $10 \cdot 2$ to total convictions, as compared with a percentage of $10 \cdot 9$ in 1921.

The number of female offenders has decreased during the year in Nova Scotia, Quebec and Saskatchewan, and increased in Ontario, Alberta and British Columbia; the figures for Prince Edward Island and Manitoba remain the same for both years.

PRÉFACE

La Statistique de la Criminalité au Canada est colligée, compilée et publiée en vertu des dispositions de la loi créant le Bureau Fédéral de la Statistique, 8-9, Georges V, chapitre 43.

On a adopté pour la première fois dans le présent rapport une qualification amplifiée de toutes les infractions aux lois, les délits commis par les jeunes délinquants étant désormais distingués des crimes, délits et contraventions commis par les adultes. Il n'y a de «crimes» que ceux commis par les adultes; ceux attribués aux jeunes délinquants sont qualifiés «délits graves»; semblablement, les «délits» commis par les adultes sont qualifiés «délits simples» lorsqu'il s'agit de jeunes délinquants. Tous les tableaux que l'on trouvera dans l'introduction au présent rapport, comportant des comparaisons, ont été établis conformément à la nouvelle classification.

La compilation de ce rapport a été préparée sous la direction de M. Reginald E. Watts, statisticien, et l'introduction est l'œuvre de M. E. H. St-Denis, Sous-Statisticien du Dominion.

R. H. COATS, Statisticien du Dominion.

STATISTIQUE DE LA CRIMINALITÉ AU CANADA, 1922.

INTRODUCTION

Le présent rapport couvre (a) les crimes et les délits graves et (b) les menus délits et contraventions. Les crimes et délits graves se divisent en six classes: (1) attentats contre les personnes; (2) délits contre la propriété avec violence; (3) délits contre la propriété sans violence; (4) attentats criminels contre la propriété; (5) faux et faux monnayage, et (6) autres crimes et délits graves non compris dans les cinq classes qui précèdent. Tous ces crimes ou délits sont susceptibles d'être jugés soit en cour d'assises soit par les magistrats de police ou autres, en vertu de la loi sur les procès expéditifs et de la loi sur les procès sommaires, par consentement. Les menus délits ou contraventions tombent sous la loi des procédures sommaires devant les magistrats de police ou les juges de paix.

Comme nous l'avons dit dans le sommaire de ce rapport, publié il y a quelque temps, la statistique de la criminalité juvénile est désormais séparée du reste des crimes, délits et contraventions, formant un chapitre distinct et il en sera de même à l'avenir. Les infractions à la loi compilées sous les en-têtes de «crimes et délits graves», et «menus délits et contraventions», sont donc imputables uniquement aux adultes, tandis que les en-têtes «délits graves» et «délits simples» ne s'appliquent qu'aux délinquants n'ayant pas encore atteint l'âge de seize ans.

En ce qui concerne les crimes et délits graves, la statistique porte d'abord sur le nombre d'accusations, le nombre de condamnations et d'acquittements, mais les autres détails sur l'accusé ne sont pas donnés que s'il est trouvé coupable; dans les cas d'acquittement, la statistique ne donne que le sexe et la nature de l'accusation.

Quant aux personnes trouvées coupables, les informations données sont: la nature de l'accusation, la sentence, l'âge, le sexe, le lieu de naissance, la religion, l'occupation, l'état civil, les habitudes de tempérance ou d'intempérance, le degré d'instruction et la classification du lieu de résidence en tant que rural ou urbain.

PARTIE I:-CRIMES ET DÉLITS GRAVES

Au cours de l'année terminée le 30 septembre 1922, le nombre d'accusations pour crimes et délits graves a été de 21,032, comparativement à 21,451 l'année précédente, soit une diminution de 419, ou 1.02 p.c.; le nombre des condamnations a été de 15,720, comparativement à 16,169 l'année précédente, soit une diminution de 449, ou 2.78 p.c. Le tableau suivant en donne la répartition par provinces.

Par ce tableau on voit que le nombre des condamnations pour délits graves a augmenté dans l'Île du Prince-Edouard, Québec, Manitoba, la Saskatchewan et le Yukon, et qu'il a diminué dans la Nouvelle-Ecosse, l'Ontario, l'Alberta et la Colombie Britannique.

Le tableau suivant donne, pour chaque province du Dominion, la proportion de la criminalité comparativement à la population:—

Provinces	Pourcentage de la criminalité	Pourcentage de la population
Ile du Prince-Edouard Nouvelle-Ecosse Nouveau-Brunswick Québec. Ontario. Manitoba Saskatchewan. Alberta. Colombie Britannique Yukon. Territoires du Nord-Ouest.	8·85 7·45 6·39	0.98 5.89 4.38 26.79 33.25 6.99 8.76 6.82 6.01 0.04 0.09
Canada	100.00	100.00

Par ce tableau on voit que le pourcentage de criminalité est plus grand que celui de population dans l'Ontario, le Manitoba, la Saskatchewan, l'Alberta et le Yukon, tandis que le pourcentage de la population est plus grand que celui de la criminalité dans l'Ile du Prince-Edouard, la Nouvelle-Ecosse, le Nouveau-Brunswick, Québec et la Colombie Britannique.

Le tableau suivant donne, par provinces, le nombre de condamnations pour crimes et délits graves, par 100,000 habitants, pour les années 1918-22.

Provinces	1918	1919	1920	1921	1922	Moyenne
Ile du Prince-Edouard Nouvelle-Ecosse. Nouveau-Brunswick Québec Ontario. Manitoba Saskatchewan Alberta. Canada	148	162	168	180	175	167

Ce tableau montre que le nombre de condamnations par 100,000 de population au Canada, a augmenté de 1918 à 1921, passant de 148 à 1918, à 180 en 1921, et qu'il est tombé à 175 en 1922. Les trois provinces montrant la plus forte moyenne pour les cinq années sont l'Ontario, la Colombie Britannique et l'Alberta, tandis que l'He du Prince-Edouard, le Nouveau-Brunswick et Québec ont les plus petites moyennes.

Le tableau suivant donne, par provinces, le nombre de femmes et filles condamnées pour crimes ou délits graves en 1921 et 1922:

	19	21	1922
Provinces	Femmes et filles con- damnées	Pourcentage des con- damnations	filles con-	Pourcentage des con- damnations
Ile du Prince-Edouard Nouvelle-Ecosse Nouveau-Brunswick Québec Ontario Manitoba Saskatchewan Alberta Colombie Britannique Yukon	53 20 633 667 155 69 86	$7 \cdot 4$ $6 \cdot 4$ $24 \cdot 0$ $8 \cdot 8$ $13 \cdot 4$ $5 \cdot 7$ $6 \cdot 8$ $6 \cdot 4$	30 24 396 742 156 60 115 86	4 · 3 7 · 5 10 · 4 10 · 6 13 · 1 4 · 4 9 · 8 8 · 6
Canada	1,765	10.9	1,608	10.2

On voit par ce tableau que le nombre de femmes criminelles a diminué de 157 en 1922, formant un pourcentage de  $10 \cdot 2$  de toutes les condamnations pour crimes ou délits graves, comparativement à un pourcentage de  $10 \cdot 9$  en 1921.

Au cours de l'année, le nombre de femmes criminelles a diminué dans la Nouvelle-Ecosse, Québec et la Saskatchewan, et il a augmenté dans l'Ontario, l'Alberta et la Colombie Britannique. Il n'y a pas eu de changement dans l'Île du Prince-Edouard ni au Manitoba.

Les condamnations de ces femmes ont été sur les accusations suivantes: tentative de meurtre, 1; homicide, 6; bigamie, 21; abandon ou mauvais traitement des enfants, 9; blessures avec armes à feu ou poignard, 7; assaut grave, 22; assaut sur la police, 26; rixe, 80; refus de pourvoir, 9; cambriolage, 21; vol et menaces, 5; faux prétextes, 26; recel, 39; fraude et conspiration pour frauder, 41; vol de gros bétail, 3; vol, 649; vol sur la personne, 23; incendie volontaire, 2; blessures aux chevaux ou autres animaux, 10; faux, 24; tentative de suicide, 10; offense à la morale publique, 39; intimidation, 8; parjure, 8; port d'armes, 2; conduire une automobile en état d'ivresse, 1; infractions à la loi des jeux de hasard et des loteries, 7; évasion de prison, ou secours ou

PREFACE

The Criminal Statistics of Canada are collected, compiled and published under authority of the Statistics Act, 1918, (8-9 George V, Chapter 43). There has been no material change made in the tables of the present report from those of the previous year. The returns of juvenile offenders are becoming annually more complete, and the tables are correspondingly extended. The compilation of the report has been carried out under the supervision of Mr. Reginald E. Watts, Statistician, who has also prepared the introductory materials.

R. H. COATS,

Dominion Statistician.

Dominion Bureau of Statistics, Ottawa, October 20, 1924.

INTRODUCTION

The tables of the present report are similar to those of previous reports. The statistics of adult offenders are first given, and secondly, those of juvenile These are followed by tables relating to procedure, prison statistics, delinquents. police statistics, the abuse of narcotic drugs, pardons and commutations. Finally retrospective tables are given showing the ratios of crime by groups of offences. It may be pointed out that these offences which are dealt with in Tables XX and XXI are grouped irrespectively as to whether they be indictable or otherwise. instance, the following offences are either indictable or non-indictable according to the nature of the offence as defined in the criminal code. Assault, carrying unlawful weapons, neglecting to support wife or family, theft, damage to property and offences against gambling and revenue laws. Keepers and inmates of bawdy houses are defined as being guilty of indictable offences, while frequenters are non-indictable. The tables referred to include, therefore, all convictions under the different heads, not taking into account the technical divisions as prescribed by the code; they also include juvenile offenders as well as adults.

Table I gives the indictable offences by judicial districts and by crimes, and shows the number of charges, acquittals, convictions, sentences, age and sex of the convicted. Table II is a summary of the foregoing by classes and by provinces. Tables III and IV give the occupations, birthplaces, religions, etc., of the convicted by crimes, classes and provinces. Table V covers the summary convictions by judicial districts and also by provinces. Tables VI to XII deal with the juve rile delinquents, showing the major and minor offences by judicial districts with dispositions of the cases, the number of previous offenders, birthplace of delinquents and of their parents, occupations of fathers, religion, age and school grade.

As the collection of statistics of juvenile delinquents on the present plan has only recently been begun, it is impossible to give complete figures for all the provinces, except as to numbers and sex. It is hoped that in future practically all the returns will be made as prescribed by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, though there are still some juvenile court officials who find difficulty in supplying the information required.

The total number of cases tried by the various criminal courts in Canada during the year ended September 30, 1923, was 164,151 as compared with 163,930 for 1922, an increase of 221. Acquittals in 1923 numbered 4,899 as against 5,590 in 1922, leaving the total number of convictions to be 159,252 for 1923 as compared with 158,340 for 1922, an increase of 912.

The numbers tried by the different courts in 1922 and 1923 were as follows:—

These figures show an increase in convictions during the year of 639 or 0.4 p.c. adults and of 273 or 4.33 p.c. for juveniles.

PART I.—INDICTABLE OFFENCES

The number of charges for indictable offences in 1923 was 19,759 as against 21,032 for the previous year, a decrease of 1,273 or 6.05 p.c. while the number of convictions was 15,188 for 1923 as compared with 15,720 for 1922, a decrease of 532 or 3.38 p.c. The figures by provinces are as follows:—

The notable features shown by the foregoing table are that the number of convictions in the three Maritime Provinces taken collectively decreased by almost 50 p.c., in Quebec and Manitoba they decreased by nearly 8 p.c., and in Ontario by slightly under 2 p.c., Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia show increases in the number of convictions.

The following table shows by provinces the proportion of criminality per 100,000 of the population for the years 1922 and 1923:

Number of convictions of indictable offences per 100,000 of the fogulation, 1922 and 1923

Comparing this ratio table with the straight difference table preceding (Table 2) we find that the three Maritime Provinces decreased 48·13 p.c. according to population, instead of 49·61 p.c. as indicated in the previous table. Quebec decreased 9·16 p.c. instead of 7·97 p.c., Ontario decreased 3·4 p.c. instead of 1·92 p.c. and Manitoba 10·52 instead of 7·91 p.c., Saskatchewan did not change in rate per population, but showed an increase of 3·95 p.c. in actual numbers. The increases in Alberta and British Columbia show less in ratio than in actual numbers. The percentage of the total decrease shows better in ratio, being 5·14 instead of only 3·38.

The indictable offences are divided into six classes, of which comparative tables for 1922 and 1923 follow:—

Analyzing the foregoing tables it will be seen that there has been a diminution in crimes against the person, in crimes against property, with and without violence, and in crimes against currency and forgery, (Classes I, II III and V), but an increase in malicious offences against property and in various miscellaneous offences. (Classes IV and VI).

In Class I, under the four heads relating to homicide, (murder, attempt to murder, manslaughter and concealment of birth), there has been during the year a decrease of 45 charges and 29 convictions, that is from 224 to 179 charges and from 109 to 80 convictions. Of rape and other offences against decency, there was a decrease in the number of charges from 650 to 624, but a greater number of convictions were secured, viz., 365 in 1923 as against 350 in 1922. It will be seen also that convictions for assaults decreased during the year from 1,882 to 1,582.

In Class II the number of convictions for burglary and shopbreaking decreased 33 p.c. and robbery decreased by nearly 38 p.c.

In Class III, in which the main item is theft of different kinds, there is but little reduction.

In Class IV the convictions increased by 26 p.c. and in Class V they decreased by 33 p.c.

In Class VI almost every item shows an increase, the principal one being in the number of illicit stills, which increased by 66 p.c. The total augmentation of the class was at the rate of 28 p.c.

A further analysis of the indictable offences is presented in the following table in which the classes are compared by provinces:—

Disregarding the Territories, the only provinces that show an increase in offences against the person (Class I) are Ontario, Alberta and British Columbia. Quebec shows notable decreases in four out of the six classes, but has the largest increase of any province in Class VI.

The following table shows, for the years 1901-1923, the number of indictable cases tried by the several courts, together with the percentage of convictions secured to the total number of cases tried by each court.

TABLE 12

The year 1923 shows the lowest percentage of cases tried by jury during the period, but the percentage of convictions in these cases was the highest since 1914. As usual, however, the police magistrates secured a greater percentage of convictions out of cases tried than did the higher courts. In 1923 83·2 p.e. of the persons tried by the magistrates were found guilty; by judge without a jury 67·3 p.e. and by judge and jury 60·5 p.c. By sex the returns show that 13,579 males and 1,609 females were convicted of indictable offences during the year 1923. In 1922 the figures were 14,111 males and 1,609 females, the whole decrease for the year being in the males; the females were the same for both years.

The following table shows the number and proportion of females convicted by provinces for the years 1921-22-23.

The provinces that have increased proportionately in the number of convicted females during the past year are, Nova Scotia, Quebec and British Columbia. The only provinces that increased in actual numbers are Quebec and British Columbia. The other provinces showed decreases both in numbers and percentage.

The Classification of Occupations of persons convicted of indictable offences is as follows: Table 13

With respect to the birth places of those who were convicted of indictable offences, the following table shows the number of people living in each province who according to the Census 1921 were born in the countries specified and the number of the convicted of the same birthplace, together with the rate per 100,000 of the population of the province for the year 1923.

In order that the figures relating to criminality may be comparable with those of the census, the number of criminals whose birthplace was not given have been distributed amongst the respective countries in the same porportion as those that were reported, which accounts for the difference between this table and that on page 169 of the report.

The above table brings out clearly the interesting fact that Canadian born offenders are proportionately very much fewer in number than are those born outside of Canada. Only 141 per 100,000 of the Canadian born citizens were convicted of indictable offences in 1923, whereas 923 per 100,000 of those born outside of Canada were found guilty. These latter are divided into:—British born, 209.9; United States, 260.6; other foreign countries, 452.9 per 100,000 of the population.

In the above table convicts whose religion was not specified have been added pro rata as was done in the table showing birthplaces.

Respecting conjugal condition, the returns show that in 1923, of those convicted of indictable offences 30 p. c. were married, 44·1 p.c. single, and 1·1 p.c. widowed, with 24·8 p.c. not given. The proportion for 1922 was: married, 33·1 p.c., single, 50·6 p.c. and widowed 1·4 p.c., with not given 14·9 p.c.

The educational status of the convicted in 1923 was illiterate, 3·3 p.c., elementary, 74·1 p.c., superior education 1·4 p.c., with 21·1 p.c. not given. The proportion for 1922 was illiterate 4·2, elementary 80·4 and superior education 2.1 p.c., with 13.3 p.c. not given.

In every hundred persons convicted 84 were recorded as being first offenders,

8 were convicted for the second time, and 8 for the third time or oftener.

Of the 15,188 persons sentenced for indictable offences, 4,916 were released with the option of a fine, 4,658 were committed to gaol without option, 949 were sent to the penitentiary for a term of from two to five years, 223 were given sentences of over five years, and 2 life sentences, with 105 sent to reformatories and 4,320 had their sentences suspended or were otherwise disposed of.

Included in the above, 60 persons were ordered to be flogged and 21 were deported.

PART II.—SUMMARY CONVICTIONS

The second part of this report relates to the non-indictable offences disposed of by Police magistrates or other Justices of the Peace under authority of the Summary Convictions Act. Convictions only are recorded in the report. The number of summary convictions during the year 1923 was 137,493 as compared with 136,322 for the previous year, an increase of 1,171.

By sex the convictions were:-

Tables 21 and 22 are taken from the indictable offences, and are included ere on account of their relationship to the three preceding tables.

A glance at these tables will show that infractions of the temperance laws nd drunkenness are slightly on the increase, while the number of persons proceuted for having illicit stills has increased by 66 p.c. On the other hand, ffences against the Opium and Narcotic Drug Act have diminished by 30 p.c.

While infractions of liquor laws increased in Quebec, drunkenness decreased. here was an increase in both of these classes of offence in Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan. In both classes there was a decrease in Alberta, while in British Columbia drunkenness increased and offences against the liquor laws decreased.

In all the provinces there was a decrease in convictions for offences relating to narcotic drugs.

The following table gives the number of convictions for offences relating to liquor laws, drunkenness, gambling, bawdy houses and opium and narcotic drugs, from 1917 to 1923.

Analysis of the foregoing table shows that offences against liquor Acts are increasing. Drunkenness increased up to 1920, then diminished until 1923 when a slight increase is shown. Gambling reached its highest point in 1921. Keepers, inmates and frequenters of bawdy houses reached the greatest numbers of the period in 1918, but during the last four years remained fairly steady at about 40 p.c. lower than that year. The rapid increase of breaches of the Opium and Narcotic Drug Act during the early part of the period appears to have been checked.

PART III.—JUVENILE DELINQUENTS

As shown by Table 1 of this abstract 6,571 juveniles were found guilty of various offences in 1923, as against 6,298 for 1922, an increase of 273 or 4 · 2 p.c. These are divided into major and minor offences, corresponding very nearly with indictable and non-indictable offences as applied to adults.

The following table shows the juvenile delinquents by class of offence and sex, by provinces for 1922 and 1923.

MAJOR OFFENCES

Distributed according to the nature of delinquencies for the years 1922 and 1923 the major offences are as follows:—

Definquencies proven	1922	1920	No.	Per cent.
Assault aggravated and wounding.  "Common "Indecent. Sexual offences. Endangering life by obstructing railway. Murder. Other offences against the person. House and shop breaking. Robbery. Of the offences enumerated above for 1923, 65.6 p.c. are thefts of various kinds, and 17.7 p.c., shop and housebreaking making a total of over 83 p.c. of the major offences. In 1922 the proportions were 62.2 and 20.0 p.c. aggregating $5130—8

82.2 p.c. for the two classes of offence. The proportion of the two years is very close and is similar to that of former years.

Of the 4,165 delinquents in the latter year 488, or about one in every nine, were before the court on one previous occasion; 282 were twice, 168 three times and 163 four or more times before the court in addition to the one dealt with here, making a total of 1,101 repeating delinquents, or about one in every four. These are divided into 1,070 boys and 31 girls.

According to the birthplaces of these 4,165 delinquents in 1923, 1,275 were native-born of native-born parents, 342 were native-born of other British born parents, and 689 were native-born of foreign born parents.

803 native-born children whose parents' birthplace was not given.

There were 138 native born delinquents with one parent native born and the other born elsewhere within the Empire, and 92 with one parent Canadian and one foreign born.

The British born delinquents outside of Canada numbered 309 and those of foreign birth 339.

Distributing those whose parents' birthplace was not given in the same ratio as those that were properly recorded, we have: 1,764, or 42 p.c. Native born delinquents of native parents; 473 or 11 p.c. native born delinquents of other British born parents; 954 or 23 p.c. native born delinquents of Foreign born parents; 326 or 8 p.c. native born delinquents of one native parent and one born outside of Canada; 648 or 16 p.c. of foreign born delinquents. Total 4,165.

According to Religions the major delinquents are proportioned as follows:

35 per 100,000 population Anglican..... | 30 | Baptist | 104 | Jewish | 30 | Methodist | 27 | 66

Presbyterian.
Roman Catholic. 66

Respecting ages and school grade, the returns show that compared with the tables of the Report on Education the educational standard of the delinquent is about one grade lower than the average. But as the returns are not yet complete, definite conclusions on this point cannot be arrived at.

MINOR OFFENCES

As already shown the offences for which children were brought before the Juvenile Courts numbered 2,233 for the year 1922 and 2,406 for 1923. These are shown by sexes and by provinces in table 24.

PRÉFACE

La statistique de la criminalité au Canada est colligée, compilée et publiée en vertu des dispositions de la loi de la Statistique de 1918 (8-9 Georges V, chap. 43).

On a suivi dans le présent rapport les mêmes errements que par le passé. Les statistiques qui concernent la criminalité juvénile devenant d'année en année plus complètes, les tableaux qui les présentent sont amplifiés.

La compilation des données s'est opérée sous la direction de M. Reginald E. Watts, statisticien, auteur des commentaires qui les accompagnent.

Statisticien du Dominion.

BUREAU FÉDÉRAL DE LA STATISTIQUE, OTTAWA, 20 octobre 1924.

INTRODUCTION

Le présent rapport est présenté sous la même forme que ses prédécesseurs. On y trouvera d'abord les statistiques concernant les criminels et délinquants adultes, puis celles intéressant les jeunes délinquants, ensuite une série de tableaux relatifs à la procédure, aux maisons de détention, aux statistiques policières, à l'abus des drogues narcotiques, aux grâces et commutations; enfin il se termine par des tableaux rétrospectifs indiquant l'importance respective des crimes et des délits classifiés en différentes catégories.

Dans les tableaux XX et XXI, on a groupé, sans les distinguer les uns des autres, les délits graves et les menus délits. Par exemple, les délits suivants sont considérés tantôt sous l'une de ces formes et tantôt sous l'autre : voies de fait, port d'armes illégal, refus de pourvoir, vol, dommage à la propriété, infraction aux lois sur le jeu et évasion fiscale. Les tenanciers et les pensionnaires de lupanars se rendent coupables d'un délit grave, mais les personnes fréquentant ces maisons ne commettent qu'un menu délit. C'est pourquoi ces travaux groupent pêlemêle toutes les condamnations prononcées pour les différentes causes ci-dessus, sans se préoccuper des divisions techniques que prescrit le code à leur sujet : enfin, ils embrassent tout à la fois les jeunes délinquants et leurs aînés.

Le tableau I est un relevé des crimes et délits graves déférés à la justice dans chacun des districts judiciaires; il indique le nombre des accusations, des acquittements, des condamnations, la nature des sentences, l'âge et le sexe des condamnés. Le tableau II résune les mêmes données, par catégories de crimes et délits, par provinces. Les tableaux III et IV nous font connaître les occupations, le lieu de naissance, la religion etc., des condamnés, selon la nature de leurs crimes et délits et par provinces. Le tableau V est consacré aux condamnations sommaires, par districts judiciaires, et aussi par provinces. Les tableaux VI à XII consacrés aux jeunes délinquants, énumèrent les délits, soit graves, soit menus, par eux commis, dans chaque district judiciaire, les suites données aux poursuites, les antécédents du délinquant, sa religion, son âge et sa classe à l'école, son lieu de naissance et celui de ses parents, enfin l'occupation du père.

Le recueil des statistiques de la criminalité juvénile sur le plan actuel étant chose récente, il n'est pas possible d'affirmer l'exactitude des chiffres dans toutes les provinces, si ce n'est ceux qui indiquent leur nombre et leur sexe. Nous espérons qu'à l'avenir les états seront transmis au Bureau Fédéral de la Statistique sous la forme prescrite et que bientôt nul fonctionnaire de l'ordre judiciaire ne négligera ce devoir.

Durant le cours de l'exercice terminé le 30 septembre 1923, les cours et tribunaux criminels du Canada ont, tous ensemble, jugé 164,151 causes, comparativement à 163,930 en 1922, soit une augmentation de 221. En 1923, les acquittements se sont élevés au nombre de 4,899, au lieu de 5,590 en 1922 et les condamnations à 159,252 au lieu de 158,340 en 1922, soit une augmentation de 912.

Nous indiquons dans le tableau suivant, la répartition de ces procès criminels entre les différents cours et tribunaux.

Il ressort de ces chiffres que, pendant l'année, le nombre des condamnations s'est accru de 639 ou 0·4 p.c. chez les adultes et de 273 ou 4·33 p.c. chez les jeunes gens.

1ère PARTIE—CRIMES ET DÉLITS GRAVES

En 1923, les accusations pour crimes et délits graves se sont élevées à 19,759, comparativement à 21,032 l'année précédente, soit une diminution de 1,273 ou 6.05 p.c.; le nombre des condamnations a été de 15,188 en 1923 au lieu de 15,720 en 1922, soit une diminution de 532 ou 3.38 p.c. Voici les chiffres intéressant chacune des provinces:

Ce qui frappe tout d'abord dans le tableau ci-dessus c'est que dans les trois provinces maritimes, considérées collectivement, les condamnations ont diminué de presque 50 p.c.; dans Québec et au Manitoba, cette décroissance est limitée à environ 8 p.c. et dans Ontario elle est légèrement inférieure à 2 p.c.; par contre, a Saskatchewan, l'Alberta et la Colombie Britannique voient s'accroître les c damnations.

Le tableau qui suit présente le taux de la criminalité par 100,000 âmes, en 1922 et 1923.

En comparant ce tableau avec le tableau 2, on constate une différence dans les changements survenus, selon qu'ils sont calculés d'une manière absolue ou d'une manière proportionnelle; par exemple, les trois provinces maritimes ont vu leur criminalité diminuée de 48·13 p.c., par rapport à leur population, au lieu de 49·61 p.c., proportion indiquée dans le tableau 2. La décroissance de Québec est de 9·16 p.c., au lieu de 7·97 p.c.; celle d'Ontario, de 3·4 p.c., au lieu de 1·92 p.c. et celle du Manitoba de 10·52 p.c., au lieu de 7·91 p.c. Le taux proportionnel de la Saskatchewan n'a pas varié mais le nombre absolu s'est accru de 3·95 p.c. Les augmentations survenues dans l'Alberta et dans la Colombie Britannique sont moindres en proportion qu'elles ne le sont en nombre absolu. La moyenne générale de décroissance calculée selon cette proportion est de 5·14 p.c., au lieu de 3·38 p.c.

Les crimes et délits graves sont divisés en six catégories; chacune d'elles fait l'objet de l'un des tableaux suivants, les années 1922 et 1923 étant placées en regard:

Il résulte des différents tableaux qui précèdent que les attentats contre les personnes et les délits contre la propriété, avec ou sans violence, ainsi que le faux et le faux monnayage (catégories I, II, III et VI) ont diminué, tandis qu'au contraire, les attentats criminels contre la propriété et les autres délits (catégories IV et VI), ont augmenté.

Dans la première catégorie, sous les quatre chefs d'homicide (assassinat, tentative d'assassinat, homicide non prémédité et infanticide) on constate une diminution de 45 accusations et de 29 condamnations, c'est-à-dire que les accusations sont tombées de 224 à 179 et les condamnations de 109 à 80. Quant au viol et autres attentats à la pudeur, les accusations se sont abaissées de 650 à 624, mais les condamnations, qui étaient en 1922 au nombre de 350, sont passées en 1923 à 365. Enfin, les condamnations pour voies de fait sont descendues de 1,882 à 1,582.

Dans la IIe catégorie, les condamnations pour cause de cambriolage ont diminué de 33 p.c. et le vol qualifié, de près de 38 p.c.

Dans la IIIe catégorie, qui embrasse le vol sous ses différents aspects, les changements sont insignifiants.

Dans la IVe catégorie, les condamnations ont augmenté de 26 p.c., tandis que dans le Ve catégorie elles ont décru de 33 p.c.

Dans la VIe catégorie, presque tous les délits énumérés ont fait l'objet de condamnations plus nombreuses; ce qui frappe surtout, c'est la distillation illicite, avec une augmentation de 66 p.c.; pour l'ensemble de cette catégorie, le taux moyen d'augmentation est de 28 p.c.

Sans nous occuper des Territoires, les seules provinces où les attentats contre les personnes (1ère catégorie) se soient multipliés sont: Ontario, Alberta, et Colombie Britannique. Québec présente une décroissance sensible au regard des crimes et délits groupés sous quatre catégories, mais par contre, c'est dans cette province que les délits de la VIe catégorie ont augmenté le plus fortement.

C'est en l'année 1923 que se trouve le plus minime pourcentage des causes jugées par jury au cours de cette période, mais le pourcentage des condamnations prononcées dans les mêmes causes n'avait jamais été aussi élevé depuis 1914. Toutefois, comme de coutume, les causes jugées par les magistrats de police fournissent un pourcentage de condamnations plus considérable que les causes portées devant les tribunaux d'un ordre plus élevé. En 1923, 83·2 p.c. des prévenus traduits devant les magistrats furent trouvés coupables; 67·3 p.c de ceux ayant comparu devant un juge sans jury et 60·5 p.c. de ceux ayant comparu devant la cour d'assises. Au point de vue du sexe, les condamnés pour crimes et délits graves en 1923, se répartissent ainsi: 13.579 du sexe masculin et 1,609 du sexe féminin, au lieu de 14,111 et 1,609 respectivement en 1922; on voit donc une amélioration chez le sexe fort mais nul changement chez le sexe faible.

Le tableau qui suit, consacré à la criminalité féminine, nous indique le nombre et la proportion des femmes condamnées dans chaque province, pendant les années 1921, 1922 et 1923.

Dans les provinces de la Nouvelle-Ecosse, de Québec et de la Colombie Britannique, on remarque une augmentation de la proportion des femmes condamnées, quoique le nombre absolu des condamnations frappant les femmes ne se soit accru que dans Québec et la Colombie Britannique; dans toutes les autres provinces, on constate une diminution, tant numérique que proportionnelle.

Au regard des métiers et occupations, les condamnés pour crimes et délits graves se classifient ainsi qu'il suit:

En ce qui concerne l'origine des condamnés pour crimes et délits graves, on a établi dans le tableau qui suit quatre groupes distincts, basés sur le recensement de 1921; on a également ajouté à ce tableau le taux par 100,000 habitants de la province, en l'année 1923.

Et, dans le but de permettre la comparaison entre les chiffres de la criminalité et les données du recensement, le nombre des criminels dont le lieu de naissance est resté inconnu a été réparti entre les différents pays, dans la même proportion que les autres, ce qui explique la différence existant entre ce tableau et celui de la page 169.

Le tableau ci-dessus démontre clairement le fait intéressant que les criminels nés au Canada sont proportionnellement beaucoup moins nombreux que ceux nés ailleurs. En 1923, sur 100,000 individus nés au Canada, 141 seulement ont été condamnés pour crimes et délits, comparativement à 923 par 100,000 pour ceux nés ailleurs, soit dans les autres parties de l'empire britannique 209 9, aux Etats-Unis 260 6 et dans les autres pays étrangers 452 9.

Dans le tableau qui précède, les criminels dont la religion est restée inconnue ont été ajoutés au pro rata, ainsi qu'on l'a fait dans le tableau consacré aux origines.

Au point de vue de l'état civil, les criminels condamnés en 1923 étaient mariés dans la proportion de 30 p.c.; 44·1 p.c. d'entre eux étaient célibataires, 1·1 p.c. veufs; enfin, on ignorait l'état civil de 24·8 p.c. En 1922, cette proportion était: mariés 33·1 p.c.; célibataires 50·6 p.c.; veufs 1·4 p.c.; état civil inconnu 14·9 p.c.

Considérés selon leur degré d'instruction, les criminels condamnés en 1923 se classifient ainsi: illettrés 3 3 p.c.; instruction primaire 74 1 p.c., instruction plus développée 1 4 p.c.; inconnu 21 1 p.c. En 1922, la même classification avait été: illettrés 4 2 p.c.; instruction primaire 80 4 p.c.; instruction plus développée 2·1 p.c.; inconnu 13·3 p.c.

Sur 100 condamnés, 84 comparaissaient devant les juges pour la première fois, 8 y revenaient pour la seconde fois et 8 étaient des récidivistes.

Des 15,188 personnes condamnées au cours de l'année pour crimes et délits graves, 4,916, ont échappé à la prison en payant une amende; 4,658 furent condamnés à la prison sans option; 949 furent envoyés au pénitencier pour une durée de deux à cinq ans; 223 pour une durée supérieure à cinq ans; deux ont été condamnés au pénitencier à perpétuité; 105 ont été envoyés dans les maisons de correction et enfin 4,320 ont vu leur sentence suspendue ou, quoique coupables ont échappé à la condamnation. En outre, parmi les condamnés 60 ont dû subir la peine du fouet et 21 ont été condamnés à être déportés en sortant de prison.

IIE PARTIE—CONDAMNATIONS SOMMAIRES

La seconde partie de ce rapport est consacrée aux menus délits portés devant les magistrats de police ou autres juges de paix statuant en vertu de la loi sur les condamnations sommaires. Nous ne nous occuperons ici que des condamnations. Le nombre des condamnations sommaires prononcées durant 1923 fut de 137,493, comparativement à 136,322 l'année précédente, soit une augmentation de 1,171. Par sexes, elle se divisent ainsi:—

On voit par le tableau qui précède que l'augmentation proportionnelle la plus considérable se trouve dans la Saskatchewan et que la diminution la plus sensible, tant numériquement que proportionnellement, appartient à la province de Québec.

On trouvera dans le tableau suivant le nombre de condamnations sommaires prononcées dans l'ensemble du pays, pour chaque délit individuellement, en 1922 et 1923.

On a établi ci-dessous différents groupes de délits, qui sont relevés pour chaque province et pour les années 1922 et 1923—

Les tableaux 21 et 22 se rapportent à des délits graves, mais on les a ajoutés ici, en raison de leur étroite relation aux délits qui font l'objet des trois tableaux précédents.

Un coup d'œil jeté sur ces tableaux indique que les délits contre les lois de tempérance et le délit d'ivresse se sont légèrement accrus, tandis que les condamnations pour distillation illicite ont augmenté de 66 p.c. D'autre part, les délits contre la loi sur l'opium et les drogues narcotiques ont diminué de 30 p.c.

Dans Québec on constate tout à la fois une recrudescence des infractions à la loi sur les boissons et une diminution des condamnations pour ivresse. Ces deux catégories de délits ont augmenté dans Ontario, le Manitoba et la Saskatchewan et ont décru dans l'Alberta; enfin, dans la Colombie Britannique, les condamnations pour ivresse sont plus nombreuses, mais les infractions aux lois sur les boissons ont diminué.

Dans toutes les provinces sans exception, les condamnations pour infractions aux lois sur les drogues narcotiques ont subi une diminution.

On trouvera dans le tableau qui suit un relevé des condamnations prononcées depuis 1917 jusqu'à 1923, pour ivresse, infractions aux lois sur les boissons, sur le jeu et sur les drogues narcotiques, ainsi que les condamnations ayant frappé les tenanciers, pensionnaires et clients des maisons de prostitution.

L'analyse des chiffres qui précèdent démontre que les infractions aux lois sur les boissons s'accroissent. L'ivresse a augmenté jusqu'en 1920, puis a diminué jusqu'en 1923 où s'opère un léger retour offensif. Les tenanciers, pensionnaires et clients des lupanars ont subi le plus grand nombre de condamnations en 1918, mais depuis les quatre dernières années elles se maintiennent à un niveau inférieur d'environ 40 p.c. à celui de 1918. La rapide augmentation des délits intéressant l'opium et les drogues, au commencement de la période qui nous occupe, semble opérer un nouvement de recul.

IIIE PARTIE—CRIMINALITÉ JUVÉNILE

Ainsi qu'on peut le voir par le tableau 1 de cet extrait. 6.571 enfants et jeunes gens ont été trouvés coupables de différents délits en 1923, comparativement à 6,298 en 1922, soit une augmentation de 273 ou 4·2 p.c. Ces condamnations sont divisées en délits graves et délits simples, lesquels correspondent approximativement aux crimes et délits graves d'une part, et aux menus délits et contraventions d'autre part, division appliquée aux adultes.

Le tableau suivant est un résumé de la criminalité juvénile classifiée en deux catégories, avec indication du sexe, pour chaque province, en 1922 et 1923.

En ce qui concerne les délits graves on constate que l'augmentation la plus considérable se place dans la province de Québec et la diminution la plus importante dans Ontario; quant aux délits simples, c'est dans la province d'Ontario qu'ils se sont surtout multipliés.

DÉLITS GRAVES

Dans les délits qui précèdent on constate que 65.6 p.c. des délits graves de 1923 sont des vols sous différentes formes et 17.7 p.c. des cambriolages, soit un peu plus de 83 p.c. de l'ensemble. En 1922, les mêmes délits représentaient 82.2 p.c., soit 62.2 p.c. pour les vols et 20.0 pour les cambriolages. Les deux années ne diffèrent donc guère l'une de l'autre, non plus d'ailleurs que les années précédentes.

Parmi les 4,165 jeunes délinquants de 1923, il s'en trouvait 488, soit environ un sur neuf qui étaient à leur seconde offense; 282 à leur troisième, 168 à leur quatrième et 164 étaient plus avancés dans leur carrière criminelle, soit un total de 1,101 récidivistes endurcis ou environ un sur quatre; c'étaient 1,070 garçons et 31 filles.

TA

Si l'on considère l'origine de ces 4,165 délinquants, on voit que 1,275 étaient nés au Canada de parents qui eux-mêmes y étaient nés; 342 étaient nés au Canada de parents nés dans d'autres parties de l'empire britannique et 689 étaient nés au Canada de parents nés à l'étranger. En outre, il y avait 975 enfants nés au Canada dont le lieu de naissance des parents était inconnu.

Poursuivant cette analyse, on trouve aussi 138 jeunes gens nés au Canada, dont l'un des ascendants était né au Canada et l'autre dans un autre pays de l'empire et 92 dont l'un des parents était né au Canada et l'autre à l'étranger.

Les délinquants nés dans les autres parties de l'empire britannique étaient au nombre de 309 et ceux nés à l'étranger de 339.

En présumant que les parents dont le lieu de naissance n'est pas indiqué sont dans la même proportion que ceux dont le lieu de naissance est connu, nous avons donc 1,764 jeunes délinquants ou 42 p.c. nés au Canada, de parents canadiens; 473 ou 11 p.c. nés au Canada de parents britanniques; 954 ou 23 p.c. nés au Canada de parents nés à l'étranger; 326 ou 8 p.c. nés au Canada de parents dont l'un né au Canada et l'autre né ailleurs. Finalement 648 ou 16 p.c. jeunes délinquants étaient nés hors du Canada.

Les mêmes jeunes délinquants, au point de vue de leur confession religieuse, se classifient ainsi qu'il suit:

BLEAU 26	nr	100 000	Amaa
Anglicane	30 par	100,000	ames
Dantista		6.6	66
Juive		66	66
Presbytérien	27	6.6
Presbyterien	50		66
Autres confessions	111	cc	66

En ce qui concerne leur degré d'instruction, si on le compare à la normale, tel qu'elle résulte du dernier rapport sur l'instruction publique, on y voit qu'en général les délinquants sont, étant donné leur âge, en retard d'un an dans leurs études; toutefois, les informations à cet égard étant incomplètes, il serait prématuré d'en tirer des conclusions catégoriques.

DÉLITS SIMPLES

Ainsi qu'on l'a vu plus haut, les délits simples ayant conduit leurs auteurs devant le tribunal pour enfants, se sont élevés au nombre de 2,233 en 1922 et de 2,406 en 1923. On en trouvera la classification par sexes et par provinces, dans le tableau 24.

Sur les 2,406 enfants et jeunes gens trouvés coupables en 1923, 635 avaient violé les règlements municipaux; les autres délits commis le plus souvent étaient: conduite désordonnée 183, perturbation de la paix 194, incorrigibilité 195, violation de la propriété 302, école buissonnière 263 et vagabondage 195; enfin 633 autres délits plus ou moins bénins.

STATISTIQUES POLICIÈRES

Les activités de la police municipale au Canada font l'objet du tableau XVI. En 1923 sur 141 cités ou villes de 4,000 âmes et plus, 133 ont fait parvenir leur rapport, huit petites villes seulement, ayant négligé de faire parvenir le leur. La population de ces 133 agglomérations urbaines est de 3,293,711 âmes, possédant 4,074 policiers de tous rangs, soit un par 808 personnes. Il a été procédé à 72,523 arrestations et, de plus, 88,816 individus ont été cités à comparaître devant la justice. Le nombre des délits de toutes catégories, connus de la police, s'est élevé à 196,446 et les poursuites dont ils ont fait l'objet furent au nombre de 143,899, soit 73 p.c. des délits connus. Les condamnations prononcées se dénombrent par 112,815, soit 78 p.c. des poursuites et 57 p.c. des délits connus.

Les plaintes de vol d'automobiles ont atteint le nombre de 4,326 et 3,984 de ces véhicules ont été retrouvés; quant aux bicyclettes, 5,902 ont été volées et 3,486 retrouvées, En outre, les autres objets dont le vol a été signalé avaient une valeur de $2,035,520 et environ 60 p.c. ont été retrouvés par la police.

La police a établi l'identité de 3,920 malfaiteurs, au moyen soit de photographies, soit d'empreintes digitales. La police a constaté 899 accidents mortels et de 22,151 autres. Au cours de l'année, les agents de police ont fermé 33,118 portes négligemment restées ouvertes le soir; les postes de police ont donné abri à 29,010 malheureux; enfin, 5,707 enfants égarés ont été reconduits chez leurs parents.

GRÂCES ET COMMUTATIONS

Au cours de l'année, 1,579 condamnés ont été l'objet de mesures de grâce, 1,154 d'entre eux ayant bénéficié de la libération conditionnelle et 425 autres ayant été relâchés sans condition; de plus, 61 condamnés, précédemment mis en liberté sous le régime de la libération conditionnelle, ont été définitivement libérés; enfin, 6 condamnés à mort ont vu leur peine commuée en un emprisonnement à perpétuité.
